

TRAFALGAR DAY FOR BENEFIT OF BRITISH RELIEF

Concert for Worthy Organization Will Be Held Saturday Night

One of the season's notable events will be the concert in aid of the British Red Cross Society which will be held next Saturday evening in the Mission Memorial Building, King street. It is "Trafalgar Day" and a program brimful of interest is being arranged for the joint benefit and celebration. The program is to be announced shortly.

The British Red Cross Society is the immediate successor and present representative of the first Red Cross society ever established in Great Britain. This was the British National Society for Aid to the Sick and Wounded in War, which was founded by the late Lord Warrington in 1870, and in 1905, at the instance of the late King Edward, amalgamated with other bodies under the title of the British Red Cross Society. The primary object of the society is to furnish aid to the sick and wounded in time of war.

In October, 1914, the British Red Cross Society and the Order of St. John decided to cooperate for the purposes of the war, and a joint war committee of the two societies was formed with this object.

The work is done with the full approval of the admiralty and the war office, and in cordial cooperation with the medical services. It is the pride of the Red Cross that in every crisis in the campaigns of Great Britain and her Allies it has been able to bring prompt and efficient aid to supplement the untiring work of the official services.

NEW OFFICER COMES TO JOIN ST. LOUIS

A new officer for the U. S. S. St. Louis, Lieut. J. L. Hall, arrived on the transport Thomas last week and will this week relieve Lieut. John C. Thom, temporary chief engineer of the cruiser. Lieut. Thom belongs to the Alert, as he is division radio officer, and on submarine duty with the third division. Lieut. Hall will be chief engineer of the St. Louis and Lieut. Thom will probably relieve the Alert here in a few days. According to the navy directory of September 1, Lieut. Hall was on the U. S. S. Utah before he was ordered to the St. Louis.

FENNELL LOOKS INTO AFFAIR OF SATURDAY NIGHT

Liquor Inspector W. P. Fennell is today investigating a report which has come to the police of a disturbance at Helme's Tavern on Kalakaua avenue Saturday night. Fennell spent considerable time Sunday interviewing witnesses and talking to the management of the hostelry and will make a full report to the board of liquor license commissioners.

According to eyewitnesses who saw the affair and reported it to the Star-Bulletin, one of the guests who had dined there with his wife and another woman had imbibed too freely of champagne. Late in the evening he engaged in a wordy dispute with another guest, was put out of the place by the management and showed resentment physically which resulted in a broken nose for himself. Assistant Manager H. R. Sims of Helme's told of the affair in a very straightforward manner to the Star-Bulletin this morning as follows:

"I had never seen the man before, but along in the evening I saw him start an argument which looked like trouble with another guest. The manager, J. J. Havery, and myself escorted him to the entrance and outside he put up such a sudden and vigorous resistance that he broke away from us, swung at me, fell down when he missed and struck on his face, breaking his nose. We then turned him over to our night watchman, Ben Jacobson, and following another tussle, during which both he and Jacobson went down, he was taken away in an auto by friends. The man had not danced and had created no disturbance in the hall. As soon as his actions appeared to suggest disorder we escorted him out of the place and the only injuries he received were from his own violence. That is the whole story."

Fennell says the only charge that may lie against the tavern would be selling liquor to an intoxicated person. The management today told the Star-Bulletin that the Tavern is making every effort to keep the place entirely orderly, and that at the first sign the man gave showing that he had taken too much liquor, he was sold no more.

BODY OF DROWNED PORTUGUESE BOY IS WASHED UP ON BEACH

Deputy Sheriff Asch was called to Kalihi this morning to take charge of the body of Henry Rapoza, a Portuguese boy, who had been found drowned this morning on the Kalihi harbor beach. Rapoza lives near the Kalihi receiving station and went out alone Sunday in a rowboat to fish. Sunday night the boat drifted back to shore, unoccupied, and friends who feared he had been drowned reported the matter to the police. The victim was about 18 years old. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

John Kaukahu, keeper of the Diamond Head lighthouse, who was stricken while on duty recently, died Saturday evening at his home, 3187 Diamond Head road. The funeral was to be at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the Catholic Cathedral and burial will be in the Manoa Hawaiian church cemetery. Kaukahu was born here 62 years ago and was one of the best known and most popular Hawaiians in Honolulu. He is survived by his wife and a daughter, Mrs. William Meyers, by his first wife.

The American-Japanese Citizens' Club will meet tonight in Lorrin Andrews' office.

On the ground of non-support, Circuit Judge Whitney has granted to Bessie E. MacCall a divorce from Bruce McV. MacCall.

RUMOR OF MASS MEETING HEARD IN CITY TODAY

Gathering Said to Be Planned for Saturday; Strikers Are Working at Other Jobs

About the only new development today in the stevedores' strike is a rumor which circulated this morning quite persistently that a mass-meeting of strikers is to be held Saturday next in Aala park, with delegates present from the other islands to address the strikers.

Mayor John C. Lane was among those who heard the rumor. Union officials said they had heard it as well, but did not know whether any such meeting would be held. They said no official action toward setting the date had been taken and that the move seems to be in a tentative stage as yet.

Everything was quiet today along the waterfront as concerns picketing or violence, and very few strikers were seen except a handful in front of the Sailors' Union headquarters, and they were not making any noise.

Strikers Have $3 Jobs

Union officials said the strike status is unchanged and added that 150 strikers are now being employed on construction work in the city and vicinity, but not on the waterfront and that they are getting $3 for an eight-hour day. "Everything they earn except what they actually need to support their families they give to the union soup-kettle," remarked one of the union men this morning. Other union men, according to union leaders, are earning $2 a day and giving most of it to the union's relief fund.

Plenty of Strike-breakers

McCabe, Hamilton and Renny said this morning they have 200 men at work loading the Matsonia and discharging the Honolulu freight ship overhauled to Hilo, not having time to discharge it all before she left for the Second City. Four gangs loaded pines, two loaded sugar from scows alongside, and two discharged cargo. The stevedoring firm asserted it had enough men on hand this morning to have worked three steamers full-handed and that hundreds of strike-breakers were turned away because there was only the Matsonia to be worked.

Work For 200 Tomorrow

When the Oceanic steamer Ventura arrives tomorrow there will be work for 175 or 200 stevedores, as she has 1500 tons of cargo to load here for San Francisco, mainly sugar and canned pines. The China Mail steamer China arrives in the morning, but has only a handful of freight to put off and take on. She will need only a few men. The Matson steamer Lurline, arriving Wednesday, will need several hundred.

Consul Morel May Help

In its issue of Sunday the Hawaii Shipto, in commenting editorially on the strike situation says that 31 Japanese stevedores who joined the union recently after leaving the independent gang, are not entirely the enemy of non-union men.

They were all working together in harmony, the Shipto asserts, under Mizusaki, with other Japanese stevedores, but were misunderstood by the Japanese luna for strikers while staying away from work because threatened by the unionists. They have been independent stevedores for years.

"A few days ago they were requested by Luna Mizusaki to return to their old gang, but they are hesitating about doing so," says the Japanese paper. "If there is some responsible party who can go between the Japanese stevedores of both sides to make peace the misunderstandings may easily be cleared up and a compromise reached."

The Shipto adds that the Japanese consul-general, Rokuro Moroi, has begun an investigation of the Japanese strikers' situation, and it hopes the consul-general will consent to act as arbitrator and settle the difficulty for the good of both sides.

COMMITTEE TO PROBE KAMEHAMEHA SCHOOLS HAS INITIAL MEETING

Meeting late last week for the first time, Attorney D. L. Withington, Mrs. Emma Nakuna and Attorney J. Lightfoot, members of a special committee appointed to investigate the Kamehameha Schools, outlined tentatively their plans for the investigation, although nothing definite has as yet been decided on. The committee is now awaiting a report on certain matters from the Kamehameha Alumni Association, and after the receipt of this report will begin active work, says one of the members. Chairman Withington probably will assign each member of the committee to certain phases of work in connection with the investigation.

TWO STABBING AFFAIRS ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Two stabbing cases among Japanese Sunday have been reported to the police and Ishihara and Nakashima have been arrested and are being held for investigation relative to affrays. Trouble in each case is said by Deputy Sheriff Julius W. Asch to be the result of too much sake. Ishihara is thought to have assaulted Nishioke and Nakashima is thought to have cut Hama. Both affrays took place Sunday afternoon, the former in Lanakila Tract and the latter on Pauha street. Neither was serious, according to the police.

one place the enemy gained a footing on a line of ridge.

In the Balkan arena nothing of importance has happened on Gen. von Mackensen's front, nor on the Macedonian front. Serbian attacks have been renewed on the Czerna bend, but the situation is unchanged.

Yesterday's Report

GERMAN HEADQUARTERS, Oct. 15.—On the western front, on Prince Rupprecht's front, there was strong artillery fighting on both sides of the Somme, extending beyond Ancre northward and increasing to greatest violence between Courcellette and Ranocourt, as well as on the Barleux. Abblancourt. English attacks north of Thiepval caused hand-to-hand fighting in our lines. In one place the enemy gained a footing, otherwise everywhere repulsed.

On the Les Boeufs sector the enemy was repulsed and when attacking between Abblancourt and Barleux gained some footing in the village and sugar factory of Genemont, but was otherwise repulsed. The south part of Abblancourt is in our hands.

On the Crown Prince's front the artillery fire increased. East of the Meuse it was stronger.

On the eastern front, in front of Luck and west of there, fighting continued. Strong fire prefaced Russian attacks which yesterday were limited to the wooded terrain south of Zafurcy, which were repulsed. There was also activity between railroad lines. In the Carpathians we have recaptured the summit of Smotrec, which was lost September 21. Near Kirilbaba the Austro-Hungarian troops obtained advantages by an attack, capturing 444 men. In Transylvania, on the eastern frontier, we had successful engagements against hostile rear-guards. In the passes there was no change. The enemy was again driven from a ridge occupied day before yesterday.

On the Balkan front, Mackensen's situation is unchanged. Strong hostile attacks on the Macedonian front and near Monastir-Florina line failed. Attempted attacks east of the railroad were swept down. No change in the situation on Czerna river bend but fighting there is almost ceaseless.

An order was issued in federal court today outlining the duties of Judges Horace W. Vaughan and Charles F. Clemons for the October, 1916, term. Judge Vaughan will have charge of all criminal cases, except those in which he is disqualified; the grand jury, naturalization, bankruptcy and all matters which he has under advisement. Judge Clemons will have charge of all other matters coming before the court.
